THE only Condition of repayment required, is, that the Loans shall be repaid by instalments, at the rate of six pounds per cent per annum, from the first day of July, twelve months after the advance has been made, pursuant to the statute of 43 Geo. 3, c. 106, in respect to Glebe Houses; and pursuant to the provisions of the statute 48 Geo. 3, c. 65, in respect to Churches.

REPLY to the 4th Item.

An Account of the Churches and Glebe Houses, for erecting which, sums of money have been advanced, by way of gift or loan, has been fully detailed in the preceding Statements, under the respective heads of Churches and Glebe Houses.

But the Secretary of the Board cannot assign reasons for delay in their completion, wherever unforeseen delay has existed, as his department does not extend to the knowledge of such facts.

The Order of the House was referred to the Bishops of the several dioceses respectively; and the returns made by the Bishops which have been received, are sent herewith (see Appendix A.) to which a reference is humbly submitted.

REPLY to the 5th Item.

The Annual Value of the several benefices as certified to the Board to ground an application, under the Act 43 and 48 Geo. 3, for a loan or gift of money to assist the incumbent in erecting a Glebe House, is expressed in a third column, opposite to the denomination of each parish, as detailed under the head of "Sums advanced for building Glebe Houses."

For a Statement of the number and estimated extent of the Parishes comprized therein, &c. reference is humbly submitted to the Returns made by the Bishops, which have been received, and are sent herewith (see Appendix A.) as the knowledge of these facts does not come within the department of the Secretary of the Board.

REPLY to the 6th Item.

The Secretary of the Board is not aware of any Measures which have been adopted by the Commissioners of First Fruits in Ireland within the last twenty years, for effecting a more exact Valuation of the Benefices contributing thereto, or of including therein such Benefices as have not heretofore been valued for that purpose.

REPLY to the 7th and 8th Items.

For an Account of the several Parishes which have been united or disunited under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, specifying the date of such Orders of Council, &c. it is humbly submitted, that a reference be had to Returns from the Clerk of the Council, as they belong to his department, which are herewith annexed (see Appendix B.)

The Church of Cloon is in progress, and it is expected will in due time be finished.

The Glebe House for Umma is now in progr ss. It has been unavoidably delayed by the death of the Incumbent, in whose time the grant for building it was made.

Headford Glebe House, although its completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board, it is very nearly finished; but as much of the expense of its erection is to be laid a charge upon the successor to the present Incumbent, which must be regulated by the value of the benefice; under the present depressed state of the times, when the Clergy in this diocese receive little or nothing of their lawful income, it would be impossible to certify it to the Board, without very great injury to the present Incumbent.

The Union of Headford consists of the followings parishes:—

These parishes are contiguous to each other; united by act of Council in 1817.

Kilmainbeg Glebe House is just finished; and its completion, it is expected, will very soon be certified to the Board.

Mohill Glebe House is just finished; and its completion, it is expected, will very soon be certified to the Board.

Drominaghan Glebe House is in progress.

The parishes of Umma, Ballynakill, Ballendoor, and Moynes, are contiguous. The parish of Killanin is separated from all the rest, and stands alone. The parishes of Arranmore, Arranby, Ennismain, and Ennisker, are islands in the Bay of Galway. The parishes of Ennisboffin is also an island in the County of Mayo.

The extent of this Union is very great, comprehending more than the whole district of Connamara. The present Incumbent does not enjoy an income of 200*l.* per annum out of the whole, and the late Incumbent resigned it, and accepted a curacy of 80*l.* per ann. If there could be had support for four ministers, they would be few enough for this great district.

DIOCESES OF CORK AND ROSS.

An Account of Churches and Glebe Houses, for erecting which Sums of Money have been advanced by way of Gift or Loan, and of which the completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board; together with the Reasons assigned for the Delay in their completion.

Date.	PARISH.	Sum Paid.	Reasons of Delay of Completion.
1820	Fanlobhua - - - -	£. 1,000	Loan for building a church:—built sufficiently.
1819	Abbey Stroury - -	£. 300	Gift for building a church, which has not yet been commenced, the ground whereon it was intended to be built having, on digging for the foundation, been found so soft that one half of the sum granted for building the church would be wasted in laying a secure foundation. Another scite has been obtained from Mr. Townsend, whose illness for the present prevents the execution of the necessary deeds, but it is hoped that the building may proceed this spring and summer.
1821	Rathbárry - - - -	£. 600	Gift for building a church, which is now nearly completed by the care and munificence of Lord Carbery, at an expence far exceeding the amount of the gift from the Board, and will be consecrated in the ensuing spring.
1820	Temple Trine - - -	£. 618. 15s.	Loan for building glebe-house, which being now completed, a commission has issued for viewing it; on the return of which, the completion, &c. will be immediately certified.
	Kilmocomogue - -	- - -	Loan for building a church, the shell of which has been completed long since; but the money is all exhausted, in consequence of the scite chosen being on ground where the foundation proved bad, and from other unforeseen difficulties; the Board, under their rules could not in better times make an additional loan, and now, from the impoverished state of the country, the interest of the loan made cannot be raised.

An Account of the Annual Value of the several Benefices, as certified to the Board of First Fruits in Ireland, under the Acts of 43 and 48 Geo. 3, for Loan or Gift of Money to assist Incumbent in erecting a Glebe House; together with a Statement of the number and extent of Parishes comprized therein, and whether such Parishes are contiguous or otherwise, whenever a benefice consisted of an union of two or more parishes; and also stating, whether such union has been formed by act of Council or episcopally, and at what period.

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS.

THE following Returns of the yearly values of these parishes at the time when the Glebe Houses were erected and finished, gives a very erroneous statement of the present incomes of the incumbents thereof; the values of such parishes, as well as others, having fallen from 40 l. to 60 l. per cent since the year 1813, insomuch that the payment of instalments of loans from the First Fruits, press heavily on incumbents. I have been well assured, that a benefice considered as the best in these dioceses, does not now produce more than 800 l. a year, though situated within four miles of the city of Cork.

The Board never make a loan or gift for building a glebe house to a greater amount than two years income of the single parish whereon such glebe house is to be erected, excepting parishes under 100 l. a year, and unions by act of Council; and no union by act of Council has been formed within these dioceses since the passing of the Acts of the 43d and 48th Geo. 3.

An Account of the Measures adopted by the Commissioners of First Fruits in Ireland, within the last twenty years, for effecting a more exact Valuation of the Benefices contributing thereto; and of including therein such Benefices as have not been valued for that purpose; as far as concerns said dioceses.

WHEN a beneficed clergyman proposes to build a glebe house, by the assistance of the Board, and has obtained his Diocesan's approbation of the measure, he presents a memorial to the Board, stating the annual value of the single parish whereon he proposes to build, and prays a loan and gift in proportion, which the Board generally grant on the representation contained in the memorial, sanctioned by the Bishop's name, without further inquiry at the time. But the loan is advanced by the Treasurer of the First Fruits by four instalments, the second and third of which are not paid until the expenditure of the preceding is certified by the Bishop (who generally requires an affidavit of the fact), and the fourth instalment, together with the gift granted for the encouragement of building, are withheld until a certificate, under the Ordinary's authentic seal, is produced to the treasurer; by which not only the whole expenditure, the completion of the building, and its fitness for the residence of the Incumbent, are ascertained, but also the annual value of the parish; which certificate the Ordinary never grants until the building has been inspected and examined by commissioners duly appointed and sworn, who from the examination of the Incumbent or others on oath, satisfy themselves of the value of the parish, of which value they duly make a return to the Bishop, who certifies accordingly. I do not know of, nor does there occur to me, a more effectual mode of ascertaining an exact valuation of such parishes; neither do I know on what authority the Board of First Fruits could obtain a knowledge of the annual value of parishes, other than those whereon Incumbents have built by their aid.

NO parishes have been united under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, from the 1st January 1818, within the said dioceses.

NO parishes have been disunited under the authority of the Lord Lieutenant and Council of Ireland, since the 1st January 1818, in the said dioceses; tha several parishes which have been disunited within these later years, having been so done by the Bishop's own authority.

An Account of all the Unions of Parishes now subsisting in the Dioceses of Cork and Ross, effected by episcopal authority; specifying the number of Parishes, whether Vicarages or Rectories, and the date of commencement of such Union, and the estimated extent of the Parishes so united, together with the name of the Bishop by whom such Union has been authorized.

NAMES OF PARISHES.	BISHOP BY WHOM AUTHORIZED.
Kilbrellan, prebend. Rathclarin, rectory and vicarage. Extent, 4 miles by 2 ½ miles.	These parishes have been episcopally united from time immemorial. Bishop Bennett authorized the last union, in consideration of the very inconsiderable value of the prebend.
Kilnaglory, prebend. Athnowen, rectory and vicarage. Extent, 6 miles by 2 miles.	These parishes have been episcopally united for a great length of time. The last union authorized by Bishop Mann.
Moviddy, rectory and vicarage. Kilbonane, vicarage. Aglish, vicarage. Extent, 4 miles by 3 miles.	These parishes had been long united to the prebend of Inskenny. The last union was authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance, by whom they were severed from the prebend.
Garrynoe, rectory. Kilowney, rectory. These parishes are very small in extent and value, and are in the presentation of Lord Kinsale.	United as long as records reach. The union last authorized, at the request of the patron, by Bishop Stopford.
St. Mary Shandon. St. Catherine's, near Shandon. Within the city of Cork, and very small in extent.	The cure of souls of St. Catherine's appears by the earliest records of the diocese, to have been committed to the rector of St. Mary Shandon, and to have been so continued ever since. Such continuance last authorized by Bishop ——
Rincurran, rectory and vicarage. Taxax, rectory.	In the presentation of the King, by whose commands the union of them was last authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance.
Kilmichael, rectory and vicarage. Macloneigh, rectory and vicarage. Estimated extent, 10 miles by 4 miles.	United for a great length of time. The last union authorized by Bishop Stopford.
Brinny, rectory and vicarage. Knockavilly, rectory. Estimated extent, 4 miles by 3 miles.	United immemorially. The last union authorized by Bishop St. Lawrance.

Kilgarruff, vicarage. Desert, vicarage. Kilkerran, vicarage. Ardfield, vicarage. Casburn Ventry, vicarage. Of these vicarages the rectories are impropriate; the estimated extent of the whole is 6 miles by 7 miles.	These vicerages appear to have been always united with the prebend of the island. The last union authorized by Bishop Mann, 1786.
Lislee, rectory. Kilsillagh, rectory. The extent of these parishes, which surround the parish of Donougmore, including the same, is about 4 miles by 1½ mile.	Lislee and Kilsillagh are hardly separable; the latter, which is very small and inconsiderable, being included within the former. The last union authorized by the Primate, when Bishop of Cork and Ross.

NAMES OF PARISHES.	BISHOP BY WHOM AUTHORIZED.
Myross, rectory. Kilmacabea, vicarage. Kilfaughnabeg, vicarage. The rectories are impropriate.	Have been united for above a century. The last union authorized by the present Bishop of Cork and Ross.
Aghadown, vicarage. Kilcoe, vicarage. Clear, vicarage. The rectories are impropriate. Aghadown and Kilcoe are in extent about 5 miles square. Clear is a well known island in the Atlantic.	Were last united by the authority of Bishop Mann.
Kilaconenagh, vicarage. Kilkatern, rectory. Kilmanagh, rectory. The extent of these parishes is unknown, as they consist in great islands, and of rocky and barren promontories and headlands, running into the Atlantic ocean, thinly inhabited, and separately insufficient to support a clergyman.	Have been united for a great length of time. The last union authorized by the present Bishop.

An Account of the Churches and Glebe Houses, for erecting which Sums of Money have been advanced by way of Gift or Loan, and of which the completion has not yet been duly certified to the Board; together with the Reasons assigned for the Delay in their completion, wherever unforeseen Delay has existed.

OFFERELANE, a rectory and vicarage. The building of a glebe-house was commenced by the predecessor of the present Incumbent, who died, leaving the same in an unfinished state; in which condition it is likely the buildings must remain, as from the ineligibility of the site and other local circumstances attending the buildings, the Diocesan could not certify the same as a fit, convenient and eligible residence for the Incumbent and his successors.

SKEIRKE, a vicarage. A glebe-house was commenced, but not near finished, by the predecessor of the present Incumbent, who declines finishing the same, in consequence of the misapplication of the greater part of the money granted by the Commissioners of First Fruits to his predecessor, who died insolvent.

An Account of the several Benefices in the Diocese of Ossory, for which Applications have been made, under the 43d and 48th Geo. 3, for a Loan or Gift of Money, to assist the Incumbent in erecting a Glebe House; together with a Statement of the Number and estimated Extent of the Parishes comprized therein; and whether such Parishes are contiguous or otherwise, whenever the Benefice consisted of an Union of two or more Parishes; and also stating, whether such Union had been formed by an act of Council or episcopally, and at what Period.

AGHAVOE consists of one parish, about eight miles in length, and three miles in breadth.

OFFERELANE, one parish; it extends about nine miles in length, from north to south; and the same in breadth, from east to west. It comprehends a great range of the Slieve-Bloom mountains, stretching from east to west about seven miles in length, and which land is too barren to be cultivated, and is not inhabited.

SKEIRKE, one parish; it extends about three miles from north to south, and about two miles from east to west.

KILFANE UNION consists of three parishes; they are contiguous to each other. The benefice is about two miles and one half in length, and averages one mile in breadth. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1676.

DUNGARVAN, one parish; it is about two miles in length from north to south, and about two miles and an half in breadth from east to west.

THOMASTOWN UNION consists of three parishes; they lie all contiguous. The benefice is about one mile and three quarters in length, and half a mile in breadth. They were united by act of Council in the year 1803.

KILMOGANNY, one parish.

FIDDOWN UNION consists of four parishes; they all lie contiguous to each other. The extent of the Union from east to west is about five miles; and from north to south, about four miles. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1689.

ENNISNAG, one parish; it extends about two miles from north to south, and one mile and an half from east to west.

RATHSARAN, one parish; it extends from north to south about half a mile; from east to west, about a mile.

BURNCHURCH UNION consists of eight parishes, several of which ought rather to be denominated town-lands, being so extremely small. They are interspersed through the county of Kilkenny: many of them are contiguous; those that are not so, are distant from five to eight miles. The estimated extent of the Union north of Kilkenny, is about ten square miles; and the extent of that portion south of Kilkenny, is about twelve square miles. These parishes were united by act of Council in the year 1678. The Diocesan knows not how they can be disunited, till the entire charge on the glebe house has been paid.

RATHDOWNEY UNION consists of three parishes; they are contiguous The extent of the Union is about one mile and an half from north to south, and about five miles from east to west. Rathdowney and Glashare united by act of Council in the year 1740; Kildelgy was episcopally united thereto by the present Diocesan.

KILLERMOGH, one parish, it extends about one mile from east to west, and about half a mile from north to south.

CASTLANE alias WHITECHURCH, one parish; it extends about one mile from north to south, and about half a mile from east to west.

1.—MANOR HAMILTON CHURCH

Is finished; but as there were some faults in the building, I would not certify it built sufficiently.

2.—URNEY CHURCH:

The building of this church was left to the management of the vicar; the money was expended; the accounts tried before the parish, and sanctioned by them. Whether the expenditure was well managed, I cannot say; but the church is not finished sufficiently. Service has been performed in it by my licence for some years; and I have reason to think the church will be finished this summer.

3.—CARRIGALLEN CHURCH:

The delay in this church is owing to the failure of two contractors, and a law-suit in consequence; the money borrowed was expended on the church; the parishioners are finishing it by assessments, and they inform me it will be finished this year. Service is performed in the new church.

4.—TEMPLEPORT CHURCH:

The money borrowed has been expended; and the building is finished, all but part of the tower and spire. The parishioners depended on subscription for part of the money, and they failed: however, they are raising the money to finish it by assessment, and they expect to be able to do so either this year, or at farthest the next. Service is performed in the new church by licence.

5.—KILLESHER CHURCH

Is built; but as much damp came into the tower, I would not certify it built sufficiently till that was remedied.

6.—DRUMGOON CHURCH

Was finished well, and taken off the hands of the builder; but before the year expired, the roof spread, and the walls were pushed out. The plan of the roof was given by the late Mr. Bowden, the architect of the Board; and, from every inquiry I could make from architects and builders, I am convinced the fault was in the plan. Service is still performed in it; and the walls that are injured will be rebuilt, and the Church new roofed, during the summer.

7.—LURGAN CHURCH

This church was nearly finished; but was much injured by the storm on the eve of the 5th of last December, which has caused the delay in finishing: it will be finished early in the summer.

Any further information I can give, is given by me in my returns to the House of Commons.

GEORGE KILMORE.
